STUDENT MAGAZINE

FACULTY OF ARTS AND SCIENCE | DEPARTMENT OF VISUAL COMMUNICATION | BIHER

Hello BIHER!

Finally, here's a way to voice our views and get them heard! As cliched as it may sound, this is a journal by the students for the students. Let's use this stroke of luck to exhibit our extraordinary achievements and raise issues that matter to us but are all-too easily overlooked. With a modest start, we introduce to you this magazine brought out by the Department of Visual Communication to give a voice to the students of this university. Written in the true spirit of journalism, this journal aims to serve the students the best of university news. With a delectable spread of insiring and intresting stories, we aim to help keep you abreast of the latest trends in this institution and provode updates on the forth coming events. Being students ourselves, we understand our peculiar tastes. We choose and present articles that will suit our reading habits and hook us to this paper. Acepting this clarion call and embarking on this journey has been an enlightening experience for us as well. Now, let's celebrate this feat. Let's read.

In India, a rape every 15 minutes

RAPES IN INDIA: 94% OFFENDERS KNOWN TO VICTIM, EVERY 4TH VICTIM A MINOR

In India, a rape is reported every 15 minutes, according to recently released official government crime data. The National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) data has stark revelations about crime in the country. Crimes against women are often taken less seriously, and investigated by police lacking in sensitivity, Women's rights groups said. To begin with, both men and women are unaware of the various forms of sexual assault. For many women, public transport is the only means to travel and with a large part of residents still relying on public modes of transport, it causes overcrowding, making women commuters more vulnerable. According to a survey of women living across Indian cities, nearly four out of five of them faced harassment in public places, a lot of these forms do not involve skin-to-skin contact. Singh listed the following forms of sexual assault: "Pinching, groping, looking down one's shirt, any kind of inappropriate sexual contact, catcalling, looking up one's skirt. While a few are more likely to happen in crowded spaces, others may occur at any public space." Ms. Kanimozhi Mathi, a Chennai High Court advocate, tells women's day special webinar in BIHER University, "Often men do not even realize what is a violation. For women, it has been so naturalised in their systems that if a man is touching her inappropriately in a bus or in a public place, she may normally try to move away a bit without raising her voice. We are dependent on the government entirely. In India, women harassment acts should feel that all women are physically protected as well as be very strong out with courage, she said. She gave the brief note about the Sec 509 states that whoever intends to insult the modesty of any women, utters any word, makes any sound or gesture, or exhibits any object which intrudes upon the privacy of such woman shall be punished with imprisonment upto 3 yrs and fine. Domestic violence is not just violence against women, but the violence of human rights. Sec 304A Causing death by negligence, Whoever causes the death of any person by doing any rash or negligent act not amounting to culpable homicide, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both. Sec 498A Husband or relative of husband of a woman subjecting her to cruelty. Whoever, being the husband or the relative of the husband of a woman, subjects such woman to cruelty shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall also be liable to fine. The women's day Special webinar shared had a great interaction and knowledge. The government statistics understate the number of rapes as it is still considered taboo to report rape in some parts of India and because rapes that end in murder are counted purely as murders.

Lionesses Better Hunters Than Lions?

Lionesses do indeed do the majority of the hunting. Lions, on the other hand, have the well-known reputation of just lions around in the shade. Lionesses are fast. Not cheetah-fast, but pretty darn fast. Much faster than lions; averaging about 30% faster. Lions about 35 mph, lionesses about 45 mph. So, right there, that is an advantage to lionesses as far as hunting goes. With that, we can start to suspect that the original question may prove to be true.

Women's Rights are Human Rights

Women are entitled to all of these rights, include the right to live free from violence, slavery, and discrimination; to be educated; to own property; to vote; and to earn a fair and equal wage. Women power and leadership many more women provide visible leadership today than ever before. Opening up higher education for women and winning the battle for suffrage brought new opportunities, along with widespread availability of labor saving devices and the discovery and legalization of reliable, safe methods of birth control. They have the most potent right in deciding what's right for them and what's wrong for them. Women have suffered through the decades because they didn't have any rights. They suffered in the hands of their male counterparts. Women have been subjected to injustice through decades. Countries all over the world called themselves, "progressive countries" but every one of them has a history of ill-treating the women. Women in these countries had to fight against the systems to get the freedom and status that they have achieved today. However, in India, women's empowerment is still lagging. There is more awareness that needs to be created for the awareness to spread. This is the time to prove yourself to the world. Individual change will be the future, let;s take a step to change the future, we can only do the change.
